Two Alfred's and a Fish

(Excerpted from "Does a Fish Know Its Wet" © H. McEwan 2002)

THE FIRST ALFRED

Australian Family Association Journal.

When Alfred became King of England back in 871 AD, he formalised a body of rules based on the Ten Commandments which was the beginning of our common law system. This legal system... was inherited by all former British colonies including the US and Australia. That system is now in danger. We are said to live in a multi-faith society. The principles which have upheld our civilised, democratic society for so long - such as the sanctity of human life and marriage, the importance of one day's rest in seven for all workers - are now said to be potentially offensive to others. Many, if not most, of our laws were derived from The Ten Commandments, yet every day of our lives we see... deliberate violations of The Ten Commandments...

These essential Christian values are expressed in many ways such as our marriage and Family laws, our Abortion laws protecting the sanctity of life... These Christian values are the basis of our laws controlling or prohibiting drugs, print and electronic forms of pornography, prostitution, tobacco, homosexuality and alcohol abuse etc etc.

The vocal immoral minorities... have successfully lobbied Governments to water down these Christian based laws by a practice known as "Fabianism". Fabianism is a policy of gradualism, gradually changing the laws by phoney arguments, so as not to awaken the sleeping giant, the Church. The changes are so gradual the Christian hardly notices until it is too late!

CONTRASTS

Sydney Morning Herald 26th August, 1885

"...we... are pre-eminently a Christian people as our laws, our whole system of jurisprudence, our Constitution... are based upon and interwoven with our Christian belief..."

Sydney Morning Herald on 26th May 1854. John West (Editor)

"The people of Australia are one people; they speak one language; their views are substantially the same; they worship one God; their moral standard is formed by one rule and beyond this life they hope for one destiny."

Sydney Morning Herald, 7 May 1976.

Senator Gareth Evans... was... once quoted as saying: "children want a right to sexual freedom and education and protection from the influence of Christianity."

THE OTHER ALFRED

Alfred Kinsey is the name of the man who has been largely responsible for shaping the thinking of the culture into which we were born. He is often referred to as 'the father of the sexual revolution'.

Raised by Methodist parents Kinsey, "knew a great deal about Judeo/Christian tradition and was indignant about what it had done to [the American] culture." (Kinsey's Legal Legacy "NEW AMERICAN" January 19, 1998)

Audrey Werner R.N.

"During the 1930's and 40's, Kinsey was trained as a zoologist. He was a professor in the biology department at Indiana University and specialized in the gall wasp. Kinsey believed that human sexuality could be studied much like one studied the gall wasp. He considered man just another animal. The Rockefeller Foundation donated large grants to Kinsey and his team to conduct his surveys. He became the most famous man in the world for a decade when the Kinsey Reports were published: "Sexual Behaviour in the Human Male" in 1948 and "Sexual Behaviour in the Human Female" in 1953.

He wanted to free adults and children from any moral restraints and encourage sexual freedom. He promised stronger marriages and better sexual health. He claimed to be a neutral scientist with no agenda.

Because his reports were 'scientific' the media wrote of his work and society began to speak of things previously considered unmentionable.

People paid so much attention as he claimed 18000 interviews. Nothing of that magnitude had ever been undertaken before.

What is now known is that he changed and manipulated data to suit his own ends. He redefined terms to meet his desired outcomes.

When he began researching for the male volume a vast number of men were away at war. He then went into prisons to conduct his surveys. These interviews were presented as being a NORMAL REPRESENTATION OF MALE SEXUALITY. Only about a quarter of the interviews were processed and used in the two reports.

Sex, Lies and the Kinsey Reports - Rachel Wildavsky

- The research team took histories from over 1400 convicted sex offenders, and several hundred male prostitutes.
- About 75% of his male respondents volunteered to take part and such volunteers were 2-4 times more sexually active than non volunteers.
- He claimed that 28% of yr 8 boys – in the 1940's – had engaged in intercourse when the 28% refers to adult men who said they had had intercourse by age 14 and whose education had not gone beyond year 8
- Kinsey redefined 'married women' to include women who had lived in a common-law (de facto) relationship for more than one year.
- He determined that about half of all married men had affairs, 69% of men had been with prostitutes, 10% of men had been homosexual for at least 3 years [and doing other unmentionables – it gets worse]
- He claimed many of these practices could be beneficial. Pre marriage sexual contact helped women 'adjust' to marriage.
- Girls would benefit from contact with adult men becoming 'conditioned for the acceptance of later activity'.
- Kinsey had a large collection of pornography – and never notified law enforcement of the existence of known paedophiles.
- Prominent scholars who knew his work was flawed continued to promote his work.
- Academics were not the only ones to poo-hoo the importance of whether Kinsey was right. Ruth Westheimer, a psychosexual therapist who offers advice to millions said "I don't care much about what is correct and what is not correct. Without him, I wouldn't be Dr Ruth".

Be warned, the worst of his findings follows now.

Kinsey claimed that 9 technically trained observers had taken data from the 317 infants and children involved. The ages of these children beginning at age 2 months. I will not give detail here about the data or methods but it is imperative that you grasp the unreliability of the children's 'research' and the subsequent conclusions. Please keep in mind that he redefined and changed data as previously mentioned and continued in like form with the children's study – actually abuse is a better word.

In 1981 Dr Judith Reisman enquired and received confirmation that the data on these children was achieved by their systematic abuse by a paedophile.

If you ever hear or read the term "Children are sexual from birth" you should know where it originates. If you should read or hear conclusions made on that statement – YOU SHOULD QUESTION THE VALIDITY OF THE CONCLUSIONS.

Over time Kinsey's 'new sexuality' has gained acceptance, momentum and credibility. Infiltrated, disseminated, enlarged and built upon to the point of it's the roots being unrecognizable to our generations.

Kinsey worked with the American Law Institute and developed Model Penal Code. First released in 1955 The MPC was sent to foreign governments, state bar associations and legislatures and was subsequently adopted, all or in part, by most busy state legislatures. It was generally accepted as a legal update based on the latest scientific research.

Kinsey's intent was to produce sex survey findings that would cripple Common Law which he claimed unfairly penalized rapists and other sex offenders.

1963 saw the removal of prayer and the Bible from schools in America with two Supreme Court decisions . Had to get the bible out and change the law as prior to that sexually explicit information spoken to under 18's was "Molesting a minor with immoral intent". This was not possible without abolishing Common law.

Mary Calderone was the medical director and co founder of Planned Parenthood. Planned Parenthood and the abortion movement also gained significant influence in 1948 when the Kinsey Reports claimed that abortion was common and harmless. Kinsey said his "married"¹ women of the 1930s and 1940s commonly had premarital sex, committed adultery and 22% had abortions. He also reported that 90% of single women had had abortions.

Abortion Wars was a book about the struggle to legalize abortion on demand which cited Kinsey. It also cites Mary Calderone (who is citing Kinsey). The American Law Institute (with whom Kinsey was in league) then legalizes abortions.

S.I.E.C.U.S.

Stepping into the void left by banishing Bible and prayer from the classroom – the Kinsey institute launched SIECUS (Sex Information and Education Council of the United States) specifically to teach Kinseyan ideology as sex education with Planned Parenthood as it's field representatives. From 1964 to the present the Kinsey Institute, Planned Parenthood and SIECUS (all recipients of Playboy grants) taught the new standard in almost all sex ed curricula in the nations classrooms.

SIECUS' new leader was Dr Mary Calderone.

By the 1960s, Kinsey's model was being taught at the University level.¹ SIECUS, the Sex Information and Education Council of the United States, was launched from The Kinsey Institute in 1964 to teach the Kinsey model.

Hugh Hefner read the Kinsey Reports and spearheaded the legalization of obscenity in America. Introducing Playboy in 1953 leading to the Pornography revolution. Later "Playboy" provided funding for sex research and education. Kinsey took his model to academic world – Hefner took it to the 'college Joe' – himself claiming to be Kinsey's pamphleteer.

Harry Hay read in the Kinsey Reports in 1948 that 10-37% of the population is "homosexual." Like Hefner, he found the reports to be fully supportive of his lifestyle. He became the founder of the Gay Movement.

Can you see the wheels within wheels?

AND A FISH

But does the fish know it's wet?

We have been born into a "sexual climate" that not so long ago was very different. Through the acceptance of the Western World – at least generally speaking – of Christian/Biblical moral values, many nations were established as Christian. These days, through what is called "moral relativism" those values are being lost as it is more and more difficult to agree on moral truth as society leaves that framework.

Judith Reisman:

Each one of [Kinseys] fraudulent claims has been disproven by honest research and real experience over the last 50 years yet there are scores of AIDS and Sex Ed programs used in schools which teach the Kinseyan sex model to children as opposed to an approach based on honest experience.

A Harris Poll

A Harris survey conducted for Planned Parenthood back in 1987 (covering a 10 year period) demonstrated that with virtually unlimited tax dollars, school based comprehensive sex education curriculum saw teen pregnancy double and teen abortions rise 300%.

The belief that comprehensive sex education curriculums do not encourage teen promiscuity was also shattered by the survey. Girls who had no exposure to school based sex education programs had the lowest rate of pregnancy. Those who had the most exposure had the highest rates. In fact the more money spent the higher the pregnancy and abortion rates.

RSVP America - EXPLICIT IMAGERY AND LANGUAGE IS HARMFUL

Neurochemical science affirms that all imagery is real to the human brain whether the setting is scientific, educational or pornographic. All sexually explicit media have the effect of obscenity and alter the development of young brains physiologically and neurochemically.

How Teen Sex is Killing our Kids – Dr Meg Meeker

- 1 out of every 5 adolescents is living with an STD
- In 1960 a shot of penicillin could kill the two known STD's, syphilis and gonorrhea.
- Today there are no simple cures and in some cases, no cures at all.
- The CDC considers the STD epidemic a multiple epidemic of at least 25 separate Diseases (50 plus if you count all the various virus strains)
- HPV, just one STD, is directly responsible for 99.7% of the cervical cancer cases and the deaths of nearly 5000 women each year.
- 80% of STD – infected teens are unaware they have an STD
- Half of all new HIV infections are in our youth (male and female)
- Condoms do not offer protection from most STD's

Finally, write a paragraph on why this is relevant to the topic of sexuality at your level.
